MEDIA INFORMATION

INTERVIEWS

Interviews with head coach Jenny Mainz and all student-athletes must be arranged through Zach Rhodes. On match days, interviews will not be available until all competition has finished.

INTERNET

Information about University of Alabama athletics can be found online at RollTide.com. For information about the Crimson Tide women's tennis team, select women's tennis under the sports dropdown menu on the home page. In addition, information can be found on various social networks including Facebook, Twitter and Instagram by searching for AlabamaWTN.

FACILITIES

The men's and women's tennis teams practice and compete at The University of Alabama Tennis Stadium, located adjacent to Rhoads Stadium on 5th Ave. East. The 12-court facility includes team locker rooms, coaches' offices, a training room and team meeting room. The teams also have a six-court indoor building, the Roberta Alison Baumgardner Tennis Facility, which was dedicated in April 2012.

UA VIDEO FEEDS/TELEVISION

The University of Alabama, through the Crimson Tide Sports Network (CTSN), offers an FTP site that provides up-to-date interviews with coaches and athletes, taped video highlights and narrated tape packages from September through May. On occasion, the women's tennis team is featured in this package. Please call the Athletics Communications Office for more details at 205-348-6084.

WHERE LEGENDS ARE MADE

A

Dr. Stuart R. Bell became the 29th president of The University of Alabama in July 2015, bringing with him 30 years of experience in higher education. He had previously served at the Capstone for 16 years as a faculty member and then department head of mechanical engineering.

Since his return, the University has developed and implemented a strategic plan, Advancing the Flagship which elevates institutional focus on academic programs, research and creative activity, inclusion and diversity, as well as the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty and staff. The Capstone has made significant investments in faculty to support the needs of a growing student body and an innovative research institution. Three new interdisciplinary research centers have been established, joining many other centers on campus focused on solving critical, real-world challenges. UA has continued to expand campus facilities and bolster academic and co-curricular programs, all of which draw exceptional students to campus.

Immediately prior to becoming UA's president, Dr. Bell was executive vice president and provost at Louisiana State University. Before his time at LSU, he served the University of Kansas as dean of the School of Engineering. Under his leadership, both institutions opened new facilities and saw great success in student recruitment and retention.

An Abilene, Texas, native, Dr. Bell earned a nuclear engineering degree from Texas A&M University in 1979. He earned his master's and doctorate degrees in mechanical engineering from the same university in 1981 and 1986, respectively.

It was also at Texas A&M that he met and fell in love with his wife, Susan. They have three adult children, Stuart, Stacy and Stephen, and they are the proud grandparents of one granddaughter, with another one due this fall.

ON YOUR CAMPUS...

ON CAMPUS

The University of Alabama knows a thing or two about legends.

Legends have been made in our academic halls, on our athletic fields and courts, and through our endeavors to shape a better world through our teaching, research and service.

UA legends earn prestigious honors, such as Pulitzer Prizes, Emmy Awards, Heisman Trophies, Medals of Honor and Lifetime Achievement Awards. They wear names like inventor, entrepreneur, best-selling author, pioneer, CEO, founder and national champion.

Here are just a few of our legends:

Best-selling authors: Harper Lee, "To Kill a Mockingbird"; Winston Groom, "Forrest Gump"; Kathryn Stockett, "The Help"; Mark Childress, "Crazy in Alabama" and T.S. Stripling, "The Store."

CEO/Chairman of the Board/President: Marillyn Hewson, Lockheed Martin; W.W. Clements, Dr. Pepper Company; Sam DiPiazza, PricewaterhouseCoopers; Thom Rainer, Lifeway Christian Resources; Vicki Hollub, Occidental Petroleum.

Pioneers and Founders: Millard Fuller, Habitat for Humanity; Jimmy Wales, Wikipedia; Joe Gibbs, The Golf Channel; John Hendricks, The Discovery Channel; Janet Gurwitch, Laura Mercier cosmetics; Morris Dees, Southern Poverty Law Center.

Science: Dr. Edward O. Wilson, biologist, researcher and two-time Pulitzer Prize winning author; Robert Jemison Van de Graaff, scientist and inventor.

Film and Television: Chuck Gordon, producer of "Die Hard" movies and "Field of Dreams"; Sela Ward, television and film actress; Joe Scarborough, talk show host; Jim Nabors, actor; Tom Cherones, director of "Seinfeld."

It matters where you go to college. The University of Alabama is the fastest growing flagship in the country because of our commitment to excellence and the success of our graduates. For the last 10 years, UA has ranked No. 1 in the country in the number of Goldwater Scholars, with Harvard University in the second spot. We also rank in the top three nationally for National Merit Scholars.

TOP RANKED

ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP-RANKED UNIVERSITIES

- Enrollment at The University of Alabama reached a record high of 38,563 for fall 2017. More than 40 percent of UA's 7,407-member freshman class scored 30 or higher on the ACT and 38 percent were in the top 10 percent of their high school graduating class. The entering class carries an average high school grade-point average of 3.72, with 34 percent having a high school GPA of 4.0 or higher.
- The University of Alabama is a leader among public universities nationwide in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars, with more than 500 currently enrolled.
- Ranked among the top 50 public universities in the nation in U.S. News and World Report's annual college rankings for more than a decade, UA ranked 46th among public universities in the 2016 rankings. UA's latest college rankings include:
 - o The School of Law is ranked 26th among all law schools in the nation (9th among public universities), spring 2017.
 - o The School of Library and Information Studies is ranked 28th nationally in the latest rankings for library schools, spring 2017.
- University of Alabama students continue to win prestigious national awards. Fifty-one UA students have been named Goldwater Scholars, including four in 2017. The University of Alabama has produced a total of 15 Rhodes Scholars, 16 Truman Scholars, 32 Hollings Scholars and 11 Boren Scholars.
- Thirty UA faculty have received National Science Foundation CAREER Awards, the nation's most prestigious recognition of top-performing young scientists, in disciplines ranging from nanoscience and engineering to biological sciences.
- Dr. Yang-Ki Hong, a professor of electrical and computer engineering, leads UA research to help electric vehicles become more efficient, cheaper and to rely on more sustainable materials. The National Science Foundation selected UA and three other universities in 2017 to team with government agencies and private companies to pursue technological advancements with automobiles.
- Fourteen University of Alabama graduates have accepted Fulbright awards to study and teach abroad during 2017-2018.
- U.S. News and World Report ranks The University of Alabama's Manderson Online Business Master's programs 14th in the nation, up from 75th the previous year. The rankings are based on level of accreditation, faculty credentials, admissions selectivity, reputation for excellence among peer institutions, and academic and career support services offered to students.
- Public Accounting Report's 2016 rankings place UA's Culverhouse School of Accountancy's undergraduate and master's programs eighth in the nation and the doctoral program ninth.
- PRWeek Magazine has recognized the public relations program in The University of Alabama's College of Communication and Information Sciences as one of the top five programs in the nation seven times.

GREG BYRNE

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Greg Byrne, one of the most acclaimed and respected administrators in collegiate athletics, began his tenure as Alabama's Director of Athletics on March 1, 2017. His role at Alabama is his third venture at the helm of a major collegiate athletics program.

Since taking over, Byrne developed and implemented The Crimson Standard, a five-year strategic plan outlining the mission statement and core values of Alabama Athletics as well as benchmarks in the areas of academics, student-athlete welfare, athletics success, financial resources, facilities, staffing and operating with integrity. In addition, The Crimson Standard, a 10-year, $600 million capital initiative focused on the renovation of facilities and development of an infrastructure that will drive future success was created.

Alabama Athletics celebrated its highest finish in program history in the Learfield Directors' Cup at the conclusion of the 2017-18 season, placing 14th thanks to a national championship in football, runner-up finishes in men's and women's golf and NCAA postseason appearances by men's basketball, gymnastics, soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's tennis, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's indoor track & field and men's and women's outdoor track & field. The Tide also continued its run of excellence in the classroom, leading the nation in Academic All-Americans with 11.

Prior to coming to Alabama, Byrne was Vice President for Athletics at the University of Arizona from 2010-17 and was Director of Athletics at Mississippi State University from 2008-10. With more than 20 years of experience as an athletics administrator, Byrne has fashioned an impressive administrative career hallmarked by consistent success in fundraising, innovative strategies and competitive success with a strong emphasis on academic excellence.

Throughout his career, Byrne has been consistently more impactful and successful with each step up the administrative ladder. As a fundraiser, he has been directly involved in raising more than $200 million in gifts during his career. As a leader of competitive athletics programs, he has fostered major improvements across the spectrum of sports at both programs he has led. A proponent of developing student-athletes into productive people after college, Byrne has led programs that have attained academic success at levels not reached prior to his tenure.

He also has deep experience working in the Southeastern Conference (SEC), having spent 2002 to 2005 at the University of Kentucky as Associate Athletics Director for Development and Fundraising before a four-year stint at Mississippi State (2006-10). From 2006-08, Byrne served as Associate Athletics Director for External Affairs at MSU before becoming Director of Athletics.

Under Byrne's leadership, Arizona Athletics underwent more than $140 million in construction and renovation of athletics facilities. That work was highlighted by the $72 million Lowell-Stevens Football Facility, the addition of two video boards in Arizona Stadium (football), and a new scoreboard in the McKale Center (basketball). Additionally, Byrne oversaw a $30 million renovation of the McKale Center, a project that included upgraded locker rooms, seating, restrooms, concessions, enhanced lighting and a new playing floor.

At Mississippi State, where he was the youngest athletics director in the SEC and the youngest to lead an athletic program at the NCAA Division I-A level, Byrne oversaw the hiring of head football coach Dan Mullen and former head baseball coach and current Director of Athletics John Cohen.

In addition to his role as Director of Athletics, Byrne serves on several committees at both the conference and national levels including the United States Olympic & Paralympic Committee Collegiate Advisory Council, the Division I Football Oversight Committee and the Southeastern Conference Security Committee. He is currently also serving his one-year term as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

As the son of veteran athletics administrator Bill Byrne, one of the nation's most prominent college sports administrators with 30 years of experience as an Athletics Director, Greg Byrne has been around the enterprise of running successful athletic programs for most of his life.

A native of Pocatello, Idaho, Byrne earned his bachelor's degree from Arizona State University in 1994 and his master's degree from Mississippi State University in 2009. Byrne is married to the former Regina Misa of Junction City, Ore., and the couple has two sons, Nick and Davis.

ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

CLASSROOM SUCCESS

EMILY ZABOR, 2X ELITE 90 WINNER

The University of Alabama is one of the nation's top scholastic institutions and the Crimson Tide women's tennis program is among those leading the way when it comes to academic excellence.

For a six-year stretch (2010-16), women's tennis has earned the NCAA Academic Progress Rate Public Recognition Award, earning a perfect 1,000 for its four-year score, the best score amongst women's tennis programs in the Southeastern Conference. The Tide has also earned a perfect 100 in NCAA Graduation Success Rate. The APR measures the eligibility, retention and graduation of student-athletes competing on every division sports team, while the GSR measures graduation rates at Division I institutions and includes those transferring into the institutions.

On the national scene, the Crimson Tide has been recognized as an ITA All-Academic Team for 16-straight seasons, which is the second-longest streak in the SEC, while also earning 83 ITA Scholar-Athlete honors.

Individually, eight UA women's tennis players have earned nine CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, with Andie Daniell earning the latest accolade in 2018. Mary Anne Macfarlane Daines, Emily Zabor, Taylor Lindsey and Antonia Foehse earned NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, while Macfarlane Daines and Zabor earned the prestigious NCAA Elite 90 award, including back-to-back honors for Zabor in 2013 and 2014. The Tide has also seen four student-athletes earn the ITA/Arthur Ashe Leadership and Sportsmanship award for the south region including Danielle Spielmann (2017), Zabor (2014), McLane (2012) and Shelley Godwin (2009).

At the conference level, Spielmann became the sixth player in program history to be named SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 2017. Prior recipients of the honor include Courtney McLane (2011 & 2012) and Ashley Bentley (2004 & 2006), who earned the honor twice while at the Capstone, in addition to Foehse (2013), Macfarlane Daines (2014) and Zabor (2015). Furthermore, the women's tennis program has earned 182 honors on the SEC Academic Honor Roll since its inception in 1984.

THE BILL BATTLE ACADEMIC CENTER

The Bill Battle Academic Center (BBAC) is a mainstay of The University of Alabama's academic success.

The Crimson Tide's academic home, the Bill Battle Academic Center at Paul W. Bryant Hall, is the crown jewel in Alabama's $125-plus million Crimson Tradition building initiative. The center was named for Bill Battle several years before his being named as the Crimson Tide's Director of Athletics in the spring of 2013.

"Academic success is the life's blood of what we do here at The University of Alabama and our academic center is second to none in providing our student-athletes with the tools they need to obtain that success," Battle said. "I couldn't be prouder to have my name associated with those efforts."

Through the auspices of the Crimson Tradition Fund, Alabama took its former athletic dorm and converted it into a state-of-the-art facility that benefits all 500-plus Crimson Tide student-athletes.

"The Bill Battle Academic Center is an incredible facility for our student-athletes," Fern Hampton, the Assistant Director for Student Services and gymnastics academic advisor said. "I can't help but be proud to give tours to recruits and their parents."

The BBAC demonstrates a high level of commitment to academics by The University of Alabama and its athletics department. With over 52,000 square feet, a student-athlete can meet with their advisor, work with a tutor, attend their orientation class, use the math or computer labs, and visit the Career and Leadership Development Center – all within Bryant Hall – which is a tremendous asset for them and their busy schedules.

Among the building's many amenities is a 48-seat computer lab with up-to-date equipment and software, a math lab, as well as individual study rooms. The athletic academic advisor offices are also housed in the building, along with two 50-seat classrooms, a 140-seat classroom, a study lounge and the Susan and Gaylon McCollough A-Club Career and Leadership Development Center.

The classrooms utilize cutting-edge teaching devices, including digital overhead projectors, and throughout the building there are information stations that provide student-athletes with news. The building also houses the Tide's Academic Hall of Fame honoring Academic All Americans and recipients of the Paul W. Bryant Student-Athlete Award.

BBAC is headed by Senior Associate Athletics Director for Student Services Jon Dever. In addition to Anders, Dever is assisted by Jessie Gardner, Brittany Price, Joy Burroughs, Stephanie Godfrey, Jennifer Sanders, Jared Jaudon, Emily Roberts, Molly Dowd, Brett Basham, Joe Suiter and Lisa Patrick. The staff also includes four assistant academic program advisors and more than 90 part-time tutors.

The BBAC staff works as a liaison between the athletics department, undergraduate and graduate divisions, and the administrative offices of the University. The staff assists with class scheduling and registration, makes sure all athletes are maintaining satisfactory progress toward their degrees, monitors academic eligibility, secures tutors and schedules study sessions, and provides career counseling and leadership development.

CAREER AND LEADERSHIP CENTER

The latest enhancement to the Bill Battle Academic Center came in the fall of 2013, when the Susan & Gaylon McCollough A-Club Career and Leadership Development Center was dedicated. The center, located on the second floor of the Academic Center, is a place where Alabama student-athletes can hone the skills necessary to take the next step in their lives.

"We felt like this was the next logical step," Associate Athletics Director for Student Services Jon Dever said. "We try to prepare our student-athletes with everything they need to be successful in the classroom and now, with this new center, we can help them prepare for that next step in their lives."

The center, led by the Tide's Director of Student-Athlete Enhancement Jessie Gardner, helps student-athletes learn everything from creating a resume to utilizing social media in a professional way to how to interview and network effectively.

The suite was named for Alabama football letterman Gaylon McCollough and his wife Susan. McCollough was a center on the Tide's 1964 National Championship team who earned Academic All-America honors in the classroom and was named All-SEC on the field before being drafted by the Dallas Cowboys.

NCAA POSTGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP AND ELITE 90 WINNERS

One of the most coveted and prestigious national honors available to collegiate athletes, the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship is awarded to athletes in their final year of competition who have performed with distinction both athletically and academically.

The NCAA Elite 90 Award, an award founded by the NCAA, recognizes the true essence of the student-athlete by honoring the individual who has reached the pinnacle of competition at the national championship level in his or her sport, while also achieving the highest academic standard among his or her peers. The Elite 90 is presented to the student-athlete with the highest cumulative grade-point average participating at the finals site for each of the NCAA's 90 championships.

MARY ANNE MACFARLANE DAINES

A member of the Crimson Tide's 2014 Southeastern Conference Championship team, Mary Anne Macfarlane Daines finished her career as a First Team CoSIDA Academic All-American, was the program's first NCAA Elite 90 winner and also earned an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship in 2014.

EMILY ZABOR

Part of the Crimson Tide's 2014 Southeastern Conference Championship team, Emily Zabor earned the program's most recent CoSIDA Capital One Academic All-America honor (2015), won the Paul W. Bryant Award (2015), earned the NCAA Elite 90 Award in back-to-back years (2013-14) and earned an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship in 2015.

TAYLOR LINDSEY

A part of the Crimson Tide program from 2009-12, Taylor Lindsey earned the program's first Postgraduate Scholarship in 2012.

ANTONIA FOEHSE

A member of the Crimson Tide's tennis program from 2010-13, Antonia Foehse earned the program's second NCAA Postgraduate award in 2013 and was also named a Second Team CoSIDA Academic All-American the same year.

JENNY MAINZ

Head Coach
HOUSTON, 1991

23rd Season

National coach of the year; three-time SEC coach of the year; two-time national champion; the longest-tenured Coach at the University of Alabama, and the third longest-tenured women's tennis coach in the storied SEC—arguably the best tennis conference in the nation year-in and year-out.

On the Court

Legendary football coach Bear Bryant once said, "I ain't never been nothing but a winner." Current six-time National Championship Coach Nick Saban is famous for "the process." Jenny Mainz carries the legacy of these two coaches and all who came before her every time her teams step on the court.

But don't ask Mainz about her resume—she's quick to point out that it's not about her. She doesn't measure success by wins and losses on the court. She invests in the well-being of her players long after they leave the University of Alabama. Yes, she's won a bunch at Alabama, but the real wins come in the decades that follow her player long after they leave the Capstone.

"I don't build teams, I build a foundation of a lifetime of success for the players who choose to do things the right way," Mainz claims. "That said, I'm grateful that we have the support of our Administration to compete for championships at the highest levels at the University of Alabama."

In 22 seasons leading the Crimson Tide women's tennis team, Mainz has taken the program to heights never before seen in the program's long and rich history. Mainz, the only coach in Alabama history to take the Tide to five consecutive NCAA championships and 12 overall, has coached 13 teams that have finished in the top 40 in addition to 26 singles players and 18 doubles teams ranked in the final Intercollegiate Tennis Association polls.

Mainz's 2014 team made history, wrapping up the season as the sixth-ranked squad in the ITA rankings, which is the highest final ranking for the program. Alabama was ranked in the top-10 throughout the year, reaching a No. 2 ranking on May 1, the highest rank in the history of the program. The 2014 Crimson Tide women finished with just one loss in conference play and posted seven 4-0 sweeps throughout the season. But the most noteworthy accomplishment her team pulled off was capturing the program's first Southeastern Conference Championship. With a 4-3, come-from-behind victory at eighth-ranked Georgia, Alabama clinched at least a part of the 2014 SEC title; that wasn't enough for the Tide women. Alabama followed that up with a 4-0 sweep of Tennessee to claim the conference title outright on the final day of the regular season.

Over her last seven seasons, Mainz has coached the Crimson Tide to some truly great heights. In 2012, her doubles pairing of Alexa Guarachi and Mary Anne Daines reached the NCAA semifinals, while Guarachi also reached the NCAA semifinals in singles in that same season. On May 25, 2015, reigning NCAA Doubles Champions, Maya Jansen and Erin Routliffe, stamped their names in the collegiate tennis record books, defeating Cal's Klara Fabikova and Zsofi Susanyi by a final score of 6-2, 6-7(5), 6-3 to become only the third doubles team in the history of NCAA women's tennis to win back-to-back national titles. Lastly in 2017, Mainz's doubles pairing of Erin Routliffe and Maddie Pothoff had an outstanding campaign finishing as the Runner-Up at the NCAA Championship match.

In 2011, UA finished fourth in the conference and claimed the SEC Western Division title for the regular season. The Tide once again claimed the Western Division title in 2012, this time finishing second overall. For the 2013 season, Alabama was ranked fourth in the conference, but the Crimson Tide continued to build upon its success as the team entered 2014.

In 2015, the Crimson Tide collected 18 wins overall, bringing its total victories since 2011 to 98, which is the most in a five-year span in program history. Last season, Mainz had a pair of singles players in Andie Daniell and Routliffe cap off the season ranked nationally while also placing two doubles teams in the final rankings. Daniell became one of the most decorated freshmen in Alabama history as she was named SEC Freshman of the Year, ITA Southern Region Rookie of the Year, second team All-SEC and to the SEC All-Freshman team. Routliffe also stamped her name in the Tide record books as she became the fourth member to earn first team All-SEC honors for a third consecutive season.

In 2017, Alabama was ranked in the ITA polls for 11 straight weeks and held its highest ranking at No. 33 on April 11 after the team defeated in-state rival No. 12 Auburn, 4-3. The squad also topped two other top-40 teams including No. 40 Tulsa (Feb. 24) and No. 13 Kentucky (March 24). In doubles, the dynamic duo of Maddie Pothoff and Erin Routliffe finished as the runner-up at the NCAA Doubles Championship, which marked the third time a Tide pairing made the finals in four years. The tandem ended the year as the second best team in the nation and registered four victories against ranked opponents in the 2017 NCAA Tournament. The most notable win the pair had on the year was in a 7-6 (4) decision against Kentucky's No. 4-ranked doubles team which helped the Tide edge the Wildcats for the 14th time in school history.

Last season, the Crimson Tide ended the year with 18 wins, which is the most victories for the program since 2015. The team also made its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 2015 as the No. 3 seed in the Tallahassee Regional. Mainz was named the ITA Southern Region Coach of the Year for the sixth time in her career after leading the Tide to an 18-12 record including a 6-7 mark in SEC play. Mainz also coach senior Andie Daniell to her second NCAA Singles Championship appearance in her storied career.

In the Classroom

In the classroom; on the court; and in the community—Mainz takes a triple bottom line approach to success, and she won't settle for anything less.

As proud as she is of her team's on-court success, Mainz is equally as proud of their academic success. The Alabama women have impressed in the classroom each year under her tutelage. For six straight years, the Crimson Tide has earned the NCAA Division I Public Recognition Award. At the conclusion of the 2013-14, 2016-17 and 2018-19 seasons, the women's tennis team combined for the highest grade point average amongst women's programs at UA. In the past eight seasons, the Tide women have laid claim to 45 ITA Scholar Athlete Awards, with five apiece coming in the first three campaigns and a program-best seven in 2015 and 2017 (eight in 2018, as the team posted perfect 4.0 grade point average in the spring semester). The Crimson Tide's efforts in the classroom are unmatched as the women continue to lay claim to the SEC's and NCAA's most prestigious academic awards following each season.

In seven of the last nine seasons, at least one member of the UA women's tennis team has been named to the CoSIDA/Capital One Academic All-America team, while the Tide has also claimed six SEC Scholar Athlete of the Year Awards for women's tennis. Also, during three of those seasons, a member of the women's team has claimed the NCAA Elite 89 Award, an honor that is presented to the student-athlete with the highest cumulative grade point average participating at the finals site for each of the NCAA's 89 championships.

"Academic success is imperative. I have always stressed the importance of academics and I always tell my players that no one can ever take your education away from you. I hope to help produce student-athletes who are well equipped to make an impact beyond tennis," says Mainz.

Being named to the CoSIDA/Capital One Academic All-America Women's At-Large Team started following the 2010-11 season, when Courtney McLane claimed the honor for the Tide. McLane received the distinction a second consecutive year following the 2011-12 season as well. Following McLane's graduation, Antonia Foehse picked up where McLane left off, being selected following the 2012-13 season. In 2014, Mary Anne Daines followed her ex-teammates in earning the honor once again for Alabama women's tennis. Senior captain Emily Zabor earned the honor in 2015.

Zabor was also honored by the conference for her academic success, earning the Southeastern Conference Scholar Athlete of the Year award in 2015. The same progression the Crimson Tide saw with the CoSIDA/Capital One All-American awards continued on in the conference as well, as Zabor marked the third consecutive member of the Tide to win the award.

In order to help produce such well-rounded young women, Mainz preaches three core values to her players: having a blue-collar work ethic, striving for constant improvement and working together as a team.

"Jenny provides an unbelievable support system for her student-athletes both on and off the court," said 2015 SEC Community Service Team member Natalia Maynetto. "Jenny is one of the most genuine people you'll ever cross paths with and she truly wants what is best for those around her. Her priority to develop and maintain personal relationships with us helps us on the court, in the classroom and in the community."

The Crimson Tide athletes under Mainz have seen a lot of success during their active time as an athlete with the team, but the women don't stop their studies once their playing days are over. Alabama women have earned three NCAA postgraduate scholarships over the past five seasons. In 2012, Taylor Lindsey earned the honor for the Crimson Tide. She was followed up by Foehse in 2013 and Daines in 2014.

Although much of the successes of any athletic team are seen on the court, Mainz has produced well-rounded athletes that work just as hard away from the sport. Her women continue to exemplify exactly what it means to be a student-athlete at The University of Alabama.

In the Community

In order to build the best possible persons, not just athletes, Mainz has placed a focus on community service and giving back to the Tuscaloosa area.

Her athletes are not just stars on the court and in the classroom, but they are also champions of the University and make an impact on their community.

Every year, the women's tennis team makes it a point to take advantage of every opportunity they have to help out those in need in Tuscaloosa and surrounding areas. In the past three years, the team has partnered with Habitat for Humanity to help build a house for a person in need. The team also takes part annually in the athletic department's Halloween Extravaganza for local youth, as well as the Project Angel Tree event, in which student-athletes help in making sure that children of incarcerated parents are provided presents each December holiday season.

For all their hard work on the court and in the community, Mainz and her team received a proclamation from Tuscaloosa Mayor Walter Maddox, making September 16, 2014 "University of Alabama Women's Tennis Day". The proclamation was given to the team in recognition of all that they have done in the past year, and to make sure that the community takes note of the accomplishments of the Alabama tennis program.

Mainz is actively involved in collegiate tennis on the national front, serving on the ITA's Operating Committee since 2010, of which she is currently the Associate Chair. She also served as the chairperson for the ITA's South Region for three years and assumed the same role for the newly formed Southern Region in 2010, a position which she still maintained through last season. Possibly her most prestigious work on the national front came in 2014, when the Alabama coach was selected as a member of the ITA Board of Directors.

Before Leading the Tide

Mainz, once ranked in the top 10 nationally in doubles, was a three-year team captain for the University of Houston Cougars and a two-time All-Southwest Conference selection, garnering numerous accolades for her dedication to the game of tennis on the court. Off the court, however, is where she truly shined, earning CoSIDA GTE Academic All-America status and dean's list honors while also being a member of the Omicron Delta Kappa Honor Society. Mainz graduated with a bachelor's degree in Kinesiology from Houston in 1991.

OVERALL RECORD (as head coach): 285-294 (.492)

RECORD AT ALABAMA: 269-265 (.504)

Berhane is entering his second season as an assistant coach for the Crimson Tide after spending four years as a head coach for the Western Kentucky women's tennis team.

"I am very excited and honored to be given the opportunity to work for The University of Alabama, which has the best athletic department in the nation," Berhane said. "I want to thank Jenny Mainz, Kevin Almond and Greg Byrne for giving me the opportunity to coach at Alabama, which I think is the biggest and best athletic brand name in the nation. I am very excited to work alongside Mainz, to help our student-athletes be successful and to have a women's tennis program that is one of the best in the nation".

In his first season with the Tide, Berhane had an immediate impact in helping Alabama to its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 2015. For his work, he was honored as the ITA Southern Region Assistant Coach of the Year.

During his tenure at WKU, Berhane was named the 2017 Conference USA Head Coach of the Year. He led the Lady Toppers to three-straight seasons over .500 and reached the semifinal round of the conference tournament by taking down a top-40 team in 2017. In the classroom, the Lady Toppers earned a perfect APR score for four consecutive years.

Before leading WKU, Berhane spent one season as an assistant coach for Youngstown State's men's and women's tennis programs, and two years prior, he served as a graduate assistant coach at East Tennessee State.

At Youngstown State, the women's team became the first Horizon League squad other than UIC to win the conference title since 1996. At the 2014 conference championships, the Penguins took down Wright State, second-seeded Milwaukee and top-seeded Cleveland State to claim the title. YSU went on to compete in the Charlottesville Regional against No. 3 seed Virginia to cap the historic season.

During his two years at ETSU, the Pirates won the regular-season championship in 2013, defeating two ranked opponents, and many of the student-athletes Berhane helped recruit powered ETSU to the 2014 conference tournament title.

Berhane's other coaching experiences included instruction at New York Shelter Island Camp and at the Monaco Athletic in Denver, Colo.

Berhane graduated from Lewis-Clark State College where he ranked as a Top 15 NAIA singles players in the nation, while also ranking in the top 10 in doubles. Before transferring to LCSC, Berhane attended Virginia Intermont College, leading his team to a top five NAIA ranking.

A native of Stockholm, Sweden, Berhane achieved a No. 10 Swedish ranking and was a finalist for the Swedish Championship doubles. He earned his MBA in sports management at ETSU in 2013. Furthermore, Berhane speaks three languages – Swedish, English and Tigrinya – and he also understands Norwegian.

Keith Swindoll is in his fourth stint as the volunteer assistant coach on Jenny Mainz's women's tennis coaching staff. A familiar face around The Capstone, Swindoll also served as a volunteer assistant for six seasons from 1999-05, the longest tenure for a volunteer coach in the SEC at the time.

Swindoll began his coaching career as a student assistant for the men's team in 1981. Since then he has claimed numerous awards and honors as Tuscaloosa's local tennis guru. After graduating from UA in 1985 with a degree in sports marketing, Swindoll received his first shot at being a head coach at Tuscaloosa Academy in 1987. There, he spent twelve seasons as head coach of both the girl's and boy's tennis programs, and won at least one state championship in each of those twelve years. He has twice been named Alabama High School Coach of the Year, 1994 and 1998, and is four-time Alabama Pro of the Year, 1990, 1991, 1993 and 2000.

Swindoll's playing career is highlighted by his countless awards and accolades collected over his tenure. He is a former No. 1 player in the men's 30-and-over division in Alabama, and a six-time Alabama Tennis Professional of the Year. Swindoll is a United States Professional Tennis Association Master Professional, an honor that less than 1 percent of tennis professionals worldwide achieve. Inducted into the Alabama Tennis Hall of Fame in Feb. 2013, Swindoll was also named the Alan Henry USPTA Southern Professional of the Year.

Swindoll has been the Director of Tennis at the Indian Hills Country Club since 1987. Under his leadership, the country club has been named United States Tennis Association Tennis Facility of the Year in 1989 and 2000.

Aside from tennis, Swindoll has developed a passion for charitable work. In 1990, he set a then southern record by playing tennis for 72 hours to raise money for local charities. He hosts "Keith's Classic" which has raised money for local charities for the past 10 years. In 2011, he held the tournament a week after a devastating tornado ripped thru Tuscaloosa, raising over $6,000 for the Tornado Disaster Relief Fund. Swindoll raised over $8,000 in 2012 for American Cancer Society in honor of Hubert Kessler, a tennis activist who was battling melanoma. In 2013, he raised over $11,000 for Children's Hospital in memory of Will May a junior who passed in a tragic accident.
